

What is modern liberalism?

How do modern liberals understand the concept of 'freedom'?
Why is John Stuart Mill regarded as a key bridge between classical and modern liberalism?
How is developmental individualism different to egoistical individualism?
What criticisms did Thomas Hill Green make of the classical liberal view of freedom?
What are positive rights? How are they different to negative rights?
Why did modern liberals believe that an enabling state was consistent with core liberal values? Give some examples of 'enabling' actions taken by the UK Government.

What is Keynesian economics? Why did modern liberals believe that economic management was still consistent with core liberal values?
How did modern liberals like Green view society? How do their views compare with classical liberal arguments?
What was John Rawls' 'original position'? What was the 'veil of ignorance'?
What was the first principle that Rawls argued would be agreed behind the veil of ignorance?
What was Rawls' second principle of justice?
How is substantive equality of opportunity different to formal equality of opportunity?	